Falsehood Nailed to the Counter. A Washington correspondent of the Richmond Enquirer, in a letter of the 14th inst., in which ST. CLAIR ST., OPPOSITE THE COURT-HOUSE he endearors to smnt every Democrat who has been named in connexion with the Presidency, except Governor Wise, takes occasion to utter a dirty laschood about Vice-President Breekimidge. He bases his falsehood on the report of a speech of Mr. Breekirridge made in Kentucky during the late campaign. The only reported speech made by Mr. Breekinridge during the campaign that was published in the Union was the one he made at Flo. cuce. We were present and heard that speech, and we assert that Mr. Breckinridge made no such remarks as those attributed to him by the Richmond Enquirer's correspondent. His statement is a falsehood, cut out of whole cloth. trere is what he says:

"'Omega' also speaks of the Hon John C. Breckinnidge as an aspirant for the Presidency. Such has been the rumor here for some time past, and it has been even reported that Judge Douglas, in the event of his not getting the nommation himself, wilt give his support to Mr Breck-inridge. I don't believe a word of it. It is true that the President and Mr. Breckinridge are not on the most anic ble terms, and, of course, he does not look for aid from the 'White House' for the furtherance of his views on that point. But if he had, Dauglas' and Buchman's mited aid. he had Dauglas' and Buchanan's united aid, and by it got the nomination, it is very doubtful if he could be clusted President. In a speech which Mr. Breckmridge made in Kentucky during the last campaign, and republished in the Union, of this city—copies of which are laid aside for luture reference—he opinly declared war against the appointment of Catholic citizens to office. He said that when he had the power to bestow office, and was applied to for it by a Catholic and a Protestant citizen of equal merits. orwords to the same effect,) he would give the Protestant the preference. Mr. Breckinridge, I suppose, has but an imperfect knowledge of the rights of entizenship under the Federal Constitution. At all events he would not make a President to suit his Catholic fellow-eitizens."
